

A new look for an enduring Mission

Help us celebrate in this our

*125th
Anniversary Year*

of dedicated service to those who risk their lives to feed the nation.

We need your prayers and financial support for the Fishermen's Mission's ongoing Christian work amongst fishermen and their families.

2006 is the 125th Anniversary of the Fishermen's Mission. Our superintendents & volunteers continue to dedicate their lives to caring for the physical and spiritual needs of fishermen and their families. However the decline in the fishing industry has meant a change in the way we provide our service.

In this our 125th Anniversary Year we have set ourselves the ambitious task of extending the cover we provide to ensure that fishing communities along the South Coast of England, the Clyde Estuary, Wales and the Channel Islands have direct access to our care and compassion. Our immediate task is to raise £40,000 to recruit, train and support for one year eight Auxiliary Superintendents to be based in these areas.
