The Eucharist was first celebrated in Frobisher Bay in 1578; the first Church building was St. Paul's, Halifax, in 1750. The Church includes a large number of the original inhabitants of Canadian Indians, Inuit, and Metis and has been a strong advocate of their rights. Canada's population is 31 million of which 22 million are Christians but only just over 2 million are Anglicans in 34 Dioceses with 2,836 congregations and 3,517 clergy.

George Bell Bishop, Ecumenist, Peacemaker, 1883 – 1953

*Queens Scholar at Westminster School, Christ Church Oxford and Wells TC.
Ordained 1907 to a curacy in the industrial slums of Leeds. In 1910, returned to* Oxford where he was engaged with the founding of a cooperative for students and university members and with the WEA. From 1914 Chaplain to Archbishop Randall Davidson, whose biography he later wrote. During WWI, and after was much involved in the ecumenical movement and the first post-war meeting of the Royal Council of Churches. Dean of Canterbury 1925 to 1929. From 1929 Bishop of Chichester. Greatly involved in the opposition to the rise of the Nazi party in Germany and was a friend and supporter of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, the Confessing Church in Germany and Pastor Martin Niemoller. During WW2 was a vocal critic of the Allies over the area bombing especially of civilians but did not have the support of senior Bishops in the House of Lords. On the death of the Archbishop of Canterbury, William Temple in 1944, many hoped George Bell would succeed him but it was thought that Winston Churchill strongly disapproved of Bell's opposition to bombing. (In 2008 Archbishop Rowan Williams said he thought Bell would have made a better Archbishop than Geoffrey Fisher).

Tuesday 4 October St Francis of Assisi, Friar, Deacon, 1181-1226

The son of a prosperous merchant who dramatically renounced his heritage in order to follow a simple life of poverty and chastity outside the framework of the monastic system. He founded the Friars Minor now the Society of St Francis (SSF), who took literally Christ's injunction to travel and preach the Gospel without money or baggage. Francis always worked within the framework of the Church and his respect for the priesthood led him to refuse ordination as a priest and he remained a deacon and left the management of his Order to others. He encouraged Clare of Assisi to found a parallel Order for women and started a Third Order for lay people willing to commit themselves to a Rule of Life.

Anglican Communion Diocese of Ibadan - (Ibadan, Nigeria) The Most Revd Joseph Akinfenwa, clergy and people.

Before 1990 the northern two thirds of Nigeria was largely blocked, but eight new bishops were consecrated, paid for by Lagos parishes, and the Project has been highly successful. It is the second largest province in the Anglican Communion, as measured by baptized membership, after the Church of England. Current membership over 25 million, out of a total Nigerian population of 104 million. Since 2002 the Church of Nigeria is organised in 10 ecclesiastical provinces. It has rapidly increased the number of its dioceses and bishops from 91 to 122. There are 3,680 Anglican congregations and 4,000 clergy. The administrative headquarters are in Abuja.

Thursday 6 October William Tynedale Translator, Martyr, 1494-1536

He was a biblical scholar who determined to make a new translation of the Bible into English working directly from the Greek. After being rebuffed by the Bishop of London, he went to Germany to work with Lutheran scholars. His translation of the NT was smuggled into England but publicly burned in 1526. He continued to work on the OT but had, frequently, to move house to evade arrest. In 1535 he was arrested in Antwerp and imprisoned. The following year he was executed. His last words were said to have been: 'Lord, open the King of England's eyes'. The beauty of Tyndale's language later became recognised and much of Cranmer's Great Bible of 1539 consists of Tyndale's translations as does much of the Authorised Version of the Bible.

Saturday 8 October

Anglican Communion Diocese of Idaho - (VIII, The Episcopal Church) The Rt Revd Brian Thom, clergy and people.
Anglicanism was brought to the New World by explorers and colonists with the first celebration of the Holy Eucharist in Jamestown, Virginia, in 1607. There was no resident Bishop for nearly two hundred years, causing problems when many of the clergy sided with the Crown during the American Revolution. In 1784, the Scottish Episcopal Church consecrated the first American Bishop. The Church has 9 Provinces, 98 Dioceses, plus 20 overseas jurisdictions. Out of a population of 284 million, only 2 million are Episcopalians, in 7,095 parishes, with 15,310 clergy.

TRINITY 20

Anglican Communion PRAY for The Church in the Province of the West Indies The Most Revd & The Hon Dr John Holder Archbishop of West Indies & Bishop of Barbados clergy and people.

The West Indies became a self-governing Province of the worldwide Anglican Communion in 1883 because of the Church of England missions in territories that became British colonies. It is made up of two mainland dioceses and six island dioceses, including Barbados, Belize, Guyana, Jamaica, Nassau and the Bahamas, Tobago, Trinidad, and the Windward Islands. Great emphasis is being placed on training personnel for an indigenous ministry. The island locations and scattered settlements make pastoral care difficult and costly.

Monday 10 October St Paulinus, Bishop, Missionary, 644

Paulinus was sent from Rome by Gregory the Great to support Augustine of Canterbury on his English mission. Edwin of Northumbria wanted to marry a Kentish princess Ethelburga, a Christian. Edwin was a pagan. Edwin agreed to give Ethelburga and her household freedom to practise their faith and to consider becoming a Christian himself. Paulinus accompanied the princess north, Edwin was converted and, with his household was baptised. Large scale conversions followed and a cathedral was started but Edwin was killed in battle in 633. Paulinus escorted the princess back to Kent and later became Bishop of Rochester.

Ethelburga of Barking was the sister of a Bishop of London, Earconwald, who built two monasteries, one for Ethelburga, an abbess who imposed the Benedictine tradition on both the men's and women's communities, when Paulinus returned to southern England after the death of King Edwin of Northumbria in 633.

James was the only cleric of the Latin Rite who remained in the north of England. He probably came from Italy but had settled near Catterick. A year later, when Oswald of Northumbria won back the throne, James continued to preach and baptise in Swaledale according to the Latin Rite. As an old man he was present at the Synod of Whitby and saw the Latin Rite re-adopted by the Northumbrian church.

Wednesday 12 October St Wilfred, c 633-709

Wilfrid (originally spelled Wilfrith) was an English bishop and saint. Born a Northumbrian noble, he entered religious life as a teenager and studied at Lindisfarne, at Canterbury, in Gaul, and at Rome; he returned to Northumbria in about 660, and became the abbot of a newly founded monastery at Ripon. He directly influenced the move away from Celtic to the more orderly Roman church practices and is best known for championing and winning the case for the Roman method of calculating the date of Easter at the Synod of Whitby in 664. He became Bishop of York with a See covering the whole of Northumbria, built magnificent stone churches at Ripon and Hexham. He acquired vast landholdings and established several monasteries and converted Sussex, the last vestige of paganism, to Christianity. He was the confidant of kings and queens but made many powerful enemies and was twice banished from Northumbria. He was not afraid to seek papal jurisdiction over both crown and church where he felt badly treated. His life was threatened many times and he was imprisoned in Northumbria by the king. Wilfrid died in 709 or 710. After his death, he was venerated as a saint

A man of great piety who endowed a number of monasteries. Strongly pro-Norman, he brought in many Norman knights and clerics and strengthened links with the Pope. He died on 5 January 1066, his successor Harold was on the throne for less than a year before being defeated by the Normans. Edward was buried in Westminster Abbey.

Saturday 15 October St Teresa of Avila, Teacher of the Faith, 1515-82

The daughter of a wealthy family of Avila who spent twenty years as a Carmelite nun before being able to carry out the reforms for which she is best known. In 1562, reacting against the unreformed Carmelites, she founded a Convent of St Joseph at Avila aiming to return to the primitive Carmelite Rule. Her nuns wore plain habits and rough leather sandals. Their life was one of contemplation, prayer and solitude. She also taught her nuns to dance, sing and be joyful. In spite of increasing age and illness she travelled all over Spain founding new houses and reforming existing ones. Her writings, particularly 'The Way of Perfection', 'The Interior Castle' and her autobiography, are classics, Ignatius was perhaps a disciple of John the Evangelist. Nothing is known of his life and work until the time of his arrest but he wrote seven letters to other churches while he was being taken to Rome under guard. They are important, giving insight into the theology of the early church. He was thrown to the lions in the Colosseum and died very quickly.

St Luke the Evangelist

Luke the Evangelist is one of the Four Evangelists—the four traditionally ascribed authors of canonical Gospels. The early church fathers ascribed to him authorship of both the Gospel according to Luke and the book of Acts of the Apostles. The authorship of The Gospel according to Luke and The Acts of the Apostles place Luke as having written a plurality of the New Testament, more even than Paul the Apostle.

Martin Luther, reformer, 1483-1546

Martin was an Augustinian canon, a theologian and official preacher to the parish church at Wittenberg. In protest against the sale of indulgencies by Friar Tetzel in 1517, he nailed his 95 theses to the door of the church. This started a movement which took him and much of northern Europe outside the jurisdiction of the Catholic Church. At the Diet of Worms in 1521 he was required to abjure and reject his many books. He refused, was excommunicated and only escaped imprisonment with the aid of some German princes. The new Protestant theology which developed went far beyond his proposals for reform.
